Graham Cracker Pencil Snack

What you need:

- ▶ Graham Crackers
- ▶ Mini Chocolate Chips
- ▶ Vanilla Almond Bark
- ▶ Red Food Coloring

What you do:

- ▶ Cut graham crackers into long skinny pieces. On one end crack the ends to make a "point" like the tip of a pencil
- ▶ Melt the Almond Bark – Ask an adult for help! One bowl you will use a few drops of red food coloring to make PINK and the other you will keep plain.
- ▶ Using the pointy edge of the graham crackers, dip slightly into the white almond bark, then quickly dip the straight edge into the pink (enough to look like an eraser).
- ▶ Lay flat on a clean surface. Before it's dry, put one small mini chocolate chip on the white tip to look like the lead of your pencil.
- ▶ Let it set just a few minutes to dry, then enjoy!

How To Make Your Own Finger Paint With Flour

You can totally make your own homemade paint with flour and a few simple kitchen ingredients!
Bonus: It's super easy, cheap and kid approved!

How to make homemade paint:

- ▶ 3/4 cup flour
- ▶ 1 cup warm water
- ▶ Food coloring
- ▶ Small containers

Instructions:

- ▶ Mix together flour with warm water until the mix is smooth. Add more water or flour until you reach your desired consistency. Make sure it is warm water – it mixes so much better than cold!
- ▶ Divide into different containers and stir in desired amount of food coloring. Old baby food containers work well.
- ▶ Get creative and paint away!! Use with sponge brushes, paint brushes or even your fingers! Parchment paper is fun to finger paint on with little kids. Use a waterproof tablecloth for easy cleanup.

NOTE: This paint does not store well, so just make enough for what you'll use that day.
